PLR Printables Store Products – Commercial Rights

You have Private Label Rights on all products being sold in the PLR Printables Store and also the PLR Printables Store Membership. Please read below for a more detailed explanation.

You can sell the "done for you" products sold by the PLR Printables Store without making any changes to the PDF format of the products. You can use the matching png "done for you" promo images included with your purchase without making any changes to advertise to your audience.

You must sell these printables to your customers giving them personal use rights and not commercial use rights.

You cannot re-sell these exact Canva templates or the Canva template links that were sold to you from the PLR Printables Store. (Excluding all types of school templates, invitations, Labels, Table of Content Pages, Shop Banners, & Social Media Templates. You can resell the invitations, Labels, Table of Content Pages, Shop Banners, & Social Media Canva Template Links because your customers will need them in order to add their own personal wedding names/birthday names and dates and anything they need to add before printing or using. You will need to save the canva templates provided to you into your own Canva account first and then resell the template link (from your Canva account) to your customer.)

If you choose to sell your own Canva templates using the Canva template links that you purchased from the PLR Printables Store (excluding school templates, invitations, labels, table of content pages, shop banners & social media templates) then your end product (Canva templates only not PDF) must be at least 60% different from the original Canva template link sold to you from the PLR Printables Store.
